Learning and Loving Center Receives Grant from Rotary

The Learning and Loving Education Center has received a $1,000 grant from the Morgan Hill Rotary Club to support its kindergarten readiness and early language-development program. The program will serve 75 immigrant children who lack access to private preschool programs, 99 percent of them live below the poverty level.

The grant will provide education and creative arts materials. The Morgan Hill center, a grassroots literacy program, has been serving the local community since 1994. The program is specifically designed to provide a comprehensive educational program to low-income ethnic minority women and children and is innovative by its design of educating both the mothers and their children. While mothers are learning English, literacy, computer skills, adult basic education, parenting, nutrition, and health, their children are learning pre-literacy, preschool skills, and English.
