Samantha Bondi, 17, from Sobrato, far right, picks up a tray to serve during the dinner. The plates had tri-tip, salmon, steamed-mixed vegetables, mashed potatoes, clam chowder and flan. The free, lighthearted celebration is a big thank you to the community's older residents.

The club decorates, cooks and serves food to about 300 seniors every year. Rosy Bergin, owner of Rosy's at the Beach restaurant, helped the club organize the popular event this year.
